Program

How can we inclusively and collaboratively plan for and respond to the diversity in today's educational environments? Join Northern Lights Public Schools as we gather for a full day of collaboration with Shelley Moore. A day to define inclusive practice, investigate frameworks & strategies and develop further capacity to reduce barriers within our learning environments for ALL students. The emphasis will be on collaborating with your individual school teams to define and understand your collective beliefs on inclusion, which will enhance your current inclusive practices.

This learning opportunity is being offered through a grant from Alberta Education.

Presenters

Shelley Moore

Originally from Edmonton, and now based in Vancouver, British Columbia, Shelley Moore is a highly sought-after teacher, researcher, speaker and storyteller and has worked with school districts and community organizations throughout both Canada and the United States. Shelley's presentations are constructed based on contexts of schools and communities and integrate theory and effective practices of inclusion, special education, curriculum and teacher professional development. Her first book entitled, "One Without the Other" was released in July 2016 to follow up her TEDx talk. Shelley completed an undergraduate degree in Special Education at the University of Alberta, her masters at Simon Fraser University, and is currently a PhD candidate at the University of British Columbia.
